Guignol's 'Winterset' To Open Monday

Play Has Received
Acclaim Of Critics

"Winterset," the first serious drama to be resented by Guignol since "Watch On The Rhine," will open Monday at 8:30 p.m. at the theater on Euclid Avenue for an indefinite run.

Tickets will be on sale at the theater box office from 12 noon until 5 p.m. today and tomorrow. Ticket sales starting Monday will be from 12 noon until 9 p.m. Admission will be 75c for UK students and $1.25 for others.

'Winterset' Well-Rated

"Winterset," by Maxwell Anderson, is rated by critics as one of the best of the modern plays. The Broadway production rated a long run in New York.

Tom Perkins plays the male lead, Mio Romanga. Floye Perkins will portray Miriamne in the production. The play is built around Mio's attempt to prove his father innocent of a crime for which he was executed.

The highlight of the play is the tense and highly dramatic closing scene.

Wallace Briggs will direct the production of the play which includes a cast of 21 persons—most of them UK students, alumni, and one professor, C. B. Stephenson, College of Arts and Sciences.

Bridgehead Is Main Set

The main set of the play is the bridgehead under which Miriamne and her family live. The set is an unusual study of perspective, different from any used at the Guignol in the past several years, according to Mr. Briggs.

The complete cast for the production follows: Mio—Tom Perkins; Miriamne—Floye Perkins; Garth, brother of Miriamne—Douglas Brown; Esdras, Miriamne's father—Kenneth Scott; Trock, the villain—Joseph Dress; and Judge Gaunt—Prof. C. B. Stephenson.

The Hobo—Harry Stanton; first girl—Gloria Eastburn; second girl—Joan Specht; Carr—W. B. Winick; Lucia, the organ grinder—Matthew Barrett; Piny, the apple woman—Florence Scott; sailor—Rusty Russell; and police sergeant—Douglas Martin.

Street urchins—Dudley Saunders and John Renfro; policeman—Joe Knight; radical—Michael Grainger; Herman—Earl Cornett; and the two men in blue serge—Tom Coughlin and Ray Morgan.

Freshmen Enter Film Competition

A University freshman will be selected by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, to enter the 20th Century-Fox Films contest for the title of Miss All-America College Freshman.

The UK winner will receive a check for $100 from the film company and will be crowned queen of the premiere showing of the movie "Mother Is A Freshman" on March 10 at the Kentucky Theater. The winner will also be entered in the national competition.

Each sorority and residence hall on campus will enter contestants for the title. A committee of Theta Sigma Phi members, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, faculty adviser, and off campus judges will select the winner Tuesday.

UK is one of 15 colleges entering freshmen in the contest. Other colleges include Wisconsin, Penn State, Missouri, Oklahoma, Southern Methodist, Iowa, Alabama, Nebraska, Syracuse, Tennessee, Utah, Iowa State, Oregon State, and Cornell.

Lois Ann Fliege, president of the sponsoring honorary, is in charge of arrangements.

Alma Magna Mater Meets At SUB Today

Alma Magna Mater, organization of children of former UK students, will meet in Room 128 of the SUB Wednesday at 5 p.m.

Miss Marguerite McLaughlin of the journalism department discussed UK traditions at the last meeting. Suzanne Rodgers was elected secretary-treasurer.

Paintings and ceramics of the Bowyer Memorial collection were installed recently on the fourth floor of the Margaret I. King Library.

The collection includes works of local, national, and foreign artists, collected from 1885 to 1920. The works were willed to the University by the widow of Charles H. Bowyer, Lexington business man, in 1946.

The magazine is named for the engineering summer camp at Buckhorn Creek. It lists the names, addresses, and positions of the students who attended the camp in 1947 and the names, addresses, and fields of interest of the present civil engineering seniors.

This plan affords the opportunity for both seniors and graduates to contact each other and aids in securing positions for seniors in their desired fields.

The magazine will also present news and general information of the department.

Drawings by Guy Vansant, member of the survey camp of 1947, will be featured. They depict memories and scenes of the six weeks spent at the camp at Buckhorn Creek.

Prof. R. E. Shaver head of the civil department is supervising the work on the magazine.

A graduation fee of .99, covering rental of cap and gown, diploma fee, and the Kentuckian, will be charged candidates for bachelor's degrees. Candidates for advanced degrees, other than doctorate, will be charged $17, which will cover the rental of cap and gown, diploma fee, and the hood to be presented to the candidate. Candidates for the doctorate will be charged $25.

Graduation fees must be paid not later than four days before commencement.

Kentucky Accepts Tournament Bids

Wildcats To Enter Post Season Tourneys In East For Eighth Consecutive Year

Tom Diskin, Sports Editor

Kentucky's powerful Wildcats officially accepted bids to play in the National Invitational (NIT) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) basketball tournaments last Tuesday.

It marks the eighth straight year that the Cats have been invited in major post-season tournaments.

In 1942, Coach Rupp's Raiders went to the NCAA. The following season, they were asked to the NIT but declined because several players left for the armed forces during the latter part of the campaign.

After the 1944, 1946 and 1947 seasons, the famed felines from Fayette County participated in the Madison Square Garden's Invitational tournament, winning the championship in the 1946 playoffs over Rhode Island State.

Last season the Lynxes won the NCAA meet, and went to the final of the Olympic Trials before losing to the "professional amateurs" of Phillips 66.

G. B. Shaw Play To Be Presented

Tickets for "Arms and the Man," Barter Theater production to be presented Friday, March 12, at Henry Clay High School auditorium, were placed on sale this week.

Tickets may be purchased at the Campus Book Store, the SUB ticket booth, the Y offices, Williams Drug Store, and Graves Cox.

Proceeds from the production, sponsored by the University YM and YWCA, will be turned over to the World Student Service Fund.

The Barter Theater got its start in the bleaker days of the depression in Abingdon, Va., about 600 miles from Broadway. The theater was organized to give the legitimate stage a place in the life of the community.

Today the Barter Theater operates a 50-person company in a year-round repertory touring Virginia and the southeastern states.

The Commonwealth of Virginia appropriated $10,000 to Barter, and the group became the state theater of Virginia, first of its kind in the nation.

Social Work Class Visits Service Office

The orientation class in the department of social work visited the Family Service office Tuesday. Miss Edith Wehmann, executive secretary, talked to the group about the activities of the society.

Willie Snow Ethridge, Louisville author

Willie Snow Ethridge Relates Experiences As An Author

By George Reynolds

Willie turned to the unknown man next to her at an afternoon tea and asked, "Are you visiting here as I am, or do you live in Greece?"

The man smiled and answered, "I live here now and then, whenever the people let me." Later the King of Greece was introduced to her again, and this time she remembered.

Willie Snow Ethridge does things like that and then writes about them. Or she writes about Kentucky and her family and everyday experiences, and readers love it. And they love to hear her tell about it as she did here at UK in a talk Tuesday sponsored by the English department.

Her family—"the roommate," the "unholy three," and the later youngster have furnished material for a series of books like "As I Live and Breathe."

The roommate is husband Mark Ethridge, well-known publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, at present United States member of the UN Conciliation Committee for Palestine. But, says Mrs. Ethridge, many people have become quite worried to learn that the roommate is a man.

Wanted To Be Chorus Girl

Her ambitions, in order of intensity, are being a chorus girl, a mother, and an informal essayist. She has had remarkable success in all but the first of these, which has given way to a love of public speaking. She obviously enjoyed herself during her address at Mc-

The NIT, which will be staged in Madison Square Garden, will be held March 12-14-17-19. The Cats will probably be placed in the lower bracket of the tournament and play their first game March 14 (Monday). Four other teams will start March 12 (Saturday).

The NCAA Eastern Division meet, consisting of four teams, will also be held in New York City, and are set for March 21-22. The survivor of this playoff will then travel to Seattle to meet the Western Division winner for the NCAA championship.

This game will be played March 2 (Saturday).

St. Louis, Western

St. Louis, the Wildcats' Public Enemy No. 1, will also participate in the National Invitational as defending champions. The Kentuckians have been hoping for one last crack at the Billikens after the Missouri quintet upset them, 42-40, in the finals of the New Orleans Sugar Bowl Tourney. St. Louis has a 19-3 record for the year.

Western Kentucky is expected to be playing in this meet also. A meeting between Kentucky and Western is certain to be a real thriller should the two be matched in the Invitational. It would be the first time that the schools have met in basketball. Western, who won the OVC championship in Louisville last Saturday, has a seasons mark of 25-3.

Other Invitational teams are expected to be Bowling Green, of Ohio (21-6), San Francisco (21-5) and Bradley University (25-5). The latter crew recently beat Oklahoma A & M and plays St. Louis Saturday night in Peoria. The remaining two schools in the eight-team Invitational to be selected are a matter of speculation. Being mentioned are CCNY (16-5) Utah (22-6) Villanova (18-3); Duquesne (17-4); and Chicago Loyola (21-5).

The Oklahoma Aggies (19-4), Illinois (19-2) and Yale are almost certain to join Kentucky in the NCAA playoffs. The latter two will be in the Eastern Division bracket with Kentucky and another team to be selected, while A & M will be play-in in the Western tourney with three quintets to be selected in the near future.

"Highly Honored"

Couch Adolph Rupp said that he felt "highly honored" that his Wildcats have been asked to participate in the two major post-season basketball tournaments.

He added that "we fully understand our responsibilities to our followers and we hope that we may be able to measure up to the confidence placed in us."

It is only the second time in history that one team has been asked to play in both. The other quintet, Utah, was eliminated by UK in the NIT, in 1944, but was asked to substitute for Arkansas, when some of the latter team's players were injured in an auto accident.

James Flack Speaks To White Math Club

James Flack, University student, discussed "The Use of Complex Number Rotations in the Analysis of Electrical Networks" at a recent meeting of the White Math Club.

Officers, elected at the meeting were John Wells, secretary, and Gene Deskins, publicity chairman.

Literary Society Sponsors Contest

The annual University Oratorical contest sponsored by the Patterson Literary Society will be held Thursday in Room 111, McVey Hall at 8 p.m.

Three men students will compete to be UK's representative in the State Oratorical contest to be held later in the month. Robert L. Smith will speak on "Their Lives and Ours," C. Hoge Hockensmith Jr. will discuss "The Monster," and Edward Cunningham will talk on "The Tenth Man."

Ellen Drake, not participating in the contest, will speak on "The Shadow of Doom."

Twenty dollars will be awarded to the winner of the men's contest, according to the will of the late James K. Patterson, former UK president.

Franc Faulconer, winner of last year's oratorical contest, will preside and introduce the speakers.

The contest will be open to the public.

Metals Society Hears Prof. Peter Payson

Prof. Payson is a graduate of Columbia University, and has worked for the Stevens Institute since 1941.

Effective Monday, March 7, the Margaret I. King Library will revert to the closing hour of 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Ag Students To Get Fellowship Awards

A four weeks Danforth summer fellowship will be awarded to an outstanding agricultural student this summer, it was announced today by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The initial requirements for the selection of the student are that he be single, not over 23 years of age, and that he be graduated in 1950.

All qualified and interested agricultural students are eligible to file applications at the college office sometime during March.

The four week fellowship, awarded jointly by the Danforth Foundation and the Ralston Purina Company, will cover the student's expenses for two weeks in St. Louis and vicinity, two weeks of leadership training at the American Youth Foundation Camp on Lake Michigan, and transportation costs.

WSSF Contributions Benefit Students Around The World

By Tom Wilborn

Contributions to the World Service Fund drive which opens Tuesday, will directly benefit university students and teachers in war devastated nations all over the world, Shelby Darbshire, WSSF campaign chairman said in an interview with a Kernel reporter this week.

"The World Student Service Fund, only national organization pledged to give aid to university people in all parts of the world, regardless of race, color, or creed, is working today in Europe, China, and Southeast Asia," Darbshire continued.

Poorer Countries Raise Funds

"England and the Scandinavian countries, poor as they are relative to us, raise more money per student for relief than the United States. Even China, a country needing help so badly, raises a given sum each year for aid to European students, as a token of student solidarity around the world."

Students abroad are carrying on comprehensive self-help programs, Darbshire stated. Mimeograph co-

Tuberculosis On Increase

Tuberculosis rates are reaching all-time highs among student groups in Europe and Asia as a result of malnutrition and poor housing conditions over a period of years, the chairman went on to say. The World Student Service Fund is providing machinery to combat tuberculosis.

The WSSF drive on this campus is being carried on under the leadership of Shelby Darbshire, chairman; Sidney Neal, in charge of organized housing, and Harold Friedly, in charge of unorganized housing.

"I want to urge everyone at the University to give as much as he can to the WSSF. When we give to the WSSF, we are helping our own colleagues—and we are the only group in this country to help them, Darbshire said.

speeding through them. The result is some soaked or spattered members of the walking proletariat.

Some of these react violently, but this is just a temporary phase. They'll soon learn to accept the inevitable stoically, with a brave and patient smile.

Drivers could take it a little slower on rainy days, especially on UK's own Indianapolis Speedways, such as the stretch between the Funkhouser BS Building and McVey Hall. But it's probably too much to request.

Anyway, pedestrians who don't know enough to go in somewhere (a manhole, for instance) when it rains are asking for it, aren't they?

Cookin' With Gaskin

The sophomore class at the University of Rochester in Rochester, New York, will give a formal dance March 5 in the Cutler Union (corresponding to our SUB) that will be a wallowing revival of an annual tradition. Cutler Union will be converted into a night club, Hollywood style, and the ballroom has been christened "Club 51" for the occasion.

Everything adding to the night club atmosphere has been provided by the Sophomores: a canopy, uniformed doormen, multi searchlights by the entrance to "Club 51", costumed hat-check and cigarette girls; a capable staff of waiters under the direction of "Pierre," the headwaiter; and a menu offering various foods and beverages. There'll be a floor show, too.

What more could anyone want for a buck-twenty a couple?

A professor, sidetracked into an oration on the mode of talk used by the typical college student, leaned over his rostrum and sneered.

"Now, what's that silly saying the girls on campus are in the habit of saying?"

"NO!" shouted a melancholy male from the back row.

A coed at Illinois State Normal College wandered into a bowling alley at three o'clock one afternoon and started playing a pinball machine. Seven hours and twenty minutes later—at 10:20—she finished her games and walked out of white bowling alley with the $38.00 she had won from the exhausted pinball machine.

Athanaeum seems rather apt: "You have a right to be confused! Trying to figure out America's inflation-deflation trend at the moment is something like going deep-sea fishing in a bathtub. You won't come up with anything but tired lungs."

A few score and several months ago fashion designers brought forth against women a new look, conceived in ignorance and greed, and dedicated to the proposition that women's legs should no longer be discernible beneath her skirts.

Now we are engaged in a great battle between fashion and common sense, testing whether that look, or any other look so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure, or rather endure long.

The world will little note nor long remember what we do in this age except whether we poor males triumph or fail in this age-old struggle. We, the living, do hereby resolve that these brave men shall not have died in vain, and that skirts above knees, by the knees, and for the men shall not perish from the earth.—DuBois, from the Clemson Tiger.

A recent radio release compares courtship to a poker game. "It begins with a pair; he flashes a diamond, she shows a flush, and they end up with a full house." The pun didn't add, though, that you can't win at that game, either.—The Glenview Mercury, Glenview St. College.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Madame Editor:

If other schools can have it—why can't we? Other schools provide diversion in their student union for their harassed students. They serve beer to students in the students union building. Why don't Kentucky?

Why can't Kentucky students go into their SUB, and have a beer? Many mornings I have felt the need for a beer in the student union. Students could be cheered between dull classes, and before tests by having a beer in the student union (the book store too).

They could even have a slot machine in the student union (the book store too).

We definitely need beer in the student union. We suggest this come to the attention of the people who can help us. Beer in the student union will keep us out of the city pubs.

J. N. M.

Dear Editor:

If the Army or Navy used red and white paint instead of olive-drab and gray, I might think that the University had gotten a bargain in war-surplus paint, judging from the generously painted curbs on all streets adjoining the campus.

Being a timid soul, I have kept quiet for a long time but now I gotta let off steam. I didn't complain when, as a freshman, I was fined $1 for parking on the campus. On another occasion I took a chance on a rainy day and once again parked on the campus. I paid another fine.

About a year ago, I traded the old crate off for a later model. After the old car was transferred, the new owner or owners proceeded to park on the campus with complete abandon. Who paid the fines? I did, of course.

I summoned my courage and went to the Dean's office to complain, but just as I started in the door, another complainant (bigger than me) was on his way out—on his ear! I mean that literally. I decided my complaint wasn't so important after all and decided to postpone my visit.

The other day I came to the end of my rope. I'm seriously thinking about tying a loop in it and sticking my head through. Several days ago I parked on Clifton

On Way To Town

JAY'S

Editor, the Kernel:

I noted with interest the resolution of the SGA to provide our campus with a "Hello Walk." This is in line with the old Kentucky spirit of friendliness and hospitality.

But I don't understand. Does this mean that I must say "howdy" to everyone I pass while strolling from the Ad Building to the SUB? Sometimes at the noon hour, there are quite a few people going that way.

Many of them, I've not seen before. Do you suppose they would be affronted if I spoke—those I don't know, I mean.

And then suppose a stranger to our fads and traditions happens to take a short cut across the campus. Wouldn't they be a wee bit surprised when everyone spoke to them. Shocked even.

A "hello walk" is certainly a good idea, I agree—but will it work?

Auditorium-Fieldhouse To Be Used For Variety Of Campus Activities

By Earl L. Conn
The new memorial auditorium-fieldhouse is going to be one of the most impressive structures in Kentucky.

The building will commemorate the Kentucky dead of World War II. It will be used by the University for four main purposes: basketball contests, swimming, staged presentations, and physical education activities.

The fieldhouse will seat approximately 12,000, depending upon the completion of seating contracts. Several hundred fans can be seated to view swimming meets.

Let's take an imaginary walk through the memorial to see it as it will be when completed.

Four Entrances
We can use any one of the four entrances. One is from Lexington Avenue. A second is at the north-east corner of the memorial from Rose Street. The third and fourth are at the main entrance from Euclid Avenue where two inside ramps lead in either direction to the seats. Turnstiles are placed at each entrance.

Entering through the main entrance from Euclid Avenue, we go up the ramp leading to the west seats. On the wall along side of the ramp we see cases naming Kentucky dead. Listed by counties, there are more than 9000. Half are in cases by the ramp leading to the east seats.

The west seats, some 3500 to 4500, are arm style while those on the north and east sides are bleacher style. The west seats are used when stages or platforms are erected for programs, the stage facing the west seats.

Seats Extend To Court
In addition, removable seats are used for basketball games and extend out from the permanent seats.

The court for games will run north to south. The extra baskets are removable also.

Seating arrangements have been completed so that a good vantage point of the floor can be gained from any part of the fieldhouse.

The ramps, run to the east and west corners, then extend north and become large corridors. Between the seats and the corridors are concessions, rest rooms, first aid stations, and telephones.

We go back down the ramp and through another entrance into the swimming pool. Seats are located on the west side of the pool. Separate locker, drying room, and shower rooms are provided for men and women. The women even have their own hair drying room.

Pool Conforms To AAU, Olympics
There are separate entrances to the locker rooms from the outside of the building. The swimming pool has been built to conform to AAU and Olympic standards.

Once again we go outside and through one of the entrances leading to the lockers, showers, offices, and equipment rooms which are on the ground floor under the seats. The offices will house the ticket office, one lecture room, ticket manager, athletic director and secretary, football coach, basketball coach, assistant coaches, publicity, physical education director and secretary.

Equipment rooms and organ storage space are under the north seats while portable seats and more locker and shower rooms are under the east seats.

The Spice Of Life

By Ruby Graham and Jobie Anderson

All aboard for SEC! And Martha Martin, please don't wear pajamas this year. SuKy is making a day of it tomorrow—leaving at 6 a.m. and returning after a whoopin' root-tootin' midnight pep session at the Kentucky Hotel. SuKy doesn't have the money to get anyone out of jail either!

Omar Tatum and Jean Stevens are no longer going steady.

Joe Bennewitz is going, going, gone, for Mimi Kirchdorfer.

The members of the Reporting Public Affairs class are now sending smoke signals to each other now that notes have been verboten. Nuts to Noble!

Doty McDaniel wants to reassure the readers that she is not going steady and that if her name is going to appear in this column she would rather have it associated with Jim McNeal.

Chester Roe, Glen Stokes, and countless others went wild over Doris Taylor's blue satin Mardi Gras outfit.

Our sense of humor has it that "La petit" Lloyce Udry and Glen "Rug" Hagenson are hitting it off handy.

Why does Ike Rouse have a hump in his back on weekends?

"Frog" Bennett has a large list of names and phone numbers from St. Joe if anyone is interested.

Bob Wesley seems to have quite a way with female trumpet tooters.

What fun could Fred Howard and Marilyn Haley have at Harlington Lake on a rainy Sunday afternoon?

Constant twosomes: Mitzi Scher and Fred Marcum.

The Triangles are well pleased with their new location. They've taken over the unsuspecting Henry Clay girls in fine style.

Playboy Jack McElroy is now out of circulation. Who is the lucky(?) girl?

Gus Clark has fallen overboard in pursuit of Judith Luigart. His favorite sport is playing ping pong in her cellar 'til the wee small hours of morn.

Jane Barnett is beginning to give Zeke Witt a hard time.

Further developments in the Woodward-Bauer affair: Dal Thorpe and Marilyn were pinned and unpinned at Joyland last weekend. Wonder what Charlie thought of that?

Steve Shelton has eyes for Mae Scott only. And he just got his pin too.

Peggy Hewlett is now giving lessons on how to date other boys and still stay pinned.

Barkley Sturgill isn't wasting time. Dot Wilkerson and Joan Graham have been vying for top rating. "Coo," his old flame was last seen with Danny Quetermoss.

Bill Forrester and Jo Patterson have made quite a hit with each other.

For a good laugh, go to the skating rink tonight and see the Sigma Chi chapter heaped on the floor.

J. D. Vaughn, Earl Siria, Elkins Payne, and Charlie Pritchett enjoyed themselves thoroughly at the "Mole Hole" last Saturday night.

Frank Leach doesn't really intend to mess up loves and lives... it's just his playful nature.

Congrats to Sandy Morgan and Dr. Rhea Taylor for their roles in the Mardi Gras celebration. The Newman Club really did a fine job!

Orchids for costumes at the Mardi Gras: To Jan Bovis and George Martin, alias Ragsdale Ann and Andy; to Nancy Copp and John Allen, the two Bunny rabbits.

George Williamson is back with Ginny Spencer. What happened to Shirley Porter?

Ann Perrine has given warning to Howard Logan. We'd be interested to see how this turns out.

Paul Fowler is having trouble with his double love life. He meets 'em both in the Grill every day—at the same time, too. The gals are Joan Rhodes and Jean Warren of course.

Speaking of Jean Warren, we hear that Renick Marsh and Dave Shropshire are now sharing her Tri Delt pin. What kind of deal is this? It's all over our heads.

Skip Bailey did a nice vocal jolt on "Night and Day" with Bleidt's band last Friday night.

To the comment of Hal Hughes in last week's KERNEL, it might be added that the whole affair has now become a riddle.

Prediction: Lucia Bland and Jerry Inman will be pinned within 2 months. There's something behind those argyles and the lighter she just gave him. And to keep it in the family, Jimmy Inman wants to shed his new Delt pin too. Anybody want it?

Rollie Leach's sudden interest in going to church is caused by a high school girl named Gloria. On, glory!

Bucky Kidwell has become interested in a gal named Doris.

Tom Gilmore thinks Beverly Midendorf gets cuter every day. He's not the only one.

Cad says the general public should have seen the act that some of the Chi Omegas put on at their open house last Friday.

And then there's the girl who thinks C. D. Lucas is cute—but she happens to add: "He has a convertible."

Martha Ann Wilson greeted the newly initiated Deltas in rare form at their dance. This is off the record but the Mason Headly Pike is her favorite afternoon hangout.

Ann Macklin and Bob Nikolas are going steady as of Monday. Wonder what will happen to his afternoon dates.

Tommy Coughlin is having tons of trouble. Someone swiped his books and raincoat in the Grill, but more serious troubles come from not being able to decide between Ruth Jordan and Sara Bennett Thomas.

Jimmy Bradley, now in charge of Sigma Chi laundry, wants to know how Betty Green got so good looking in so few years.

Bob Puryear, Dave Cheek, Bob Hoppe, and Herman Kessler have a new residence on Darley Avenue. Here's to bigger and better parties!

Charlie Wise and Charlie Boone will have to celebrate SEC together in Lexington.

We don't claim the blame for this mix-up, 'cause it was turned in to us just like we printed it. Last week 'twas said that Graydon Walters had pinned Joyce Haynes, but Joyce has been pinned to Bobbie Estill for months and months. Graydon's gal is Jackie Haynes.

We nominate John Hancock as the boy most likely to succeed in a tunic and a laurel wreath.

The SAE pledges really put it over on the actives at their bum brawl. A new chapter of R.O.B. (Royal Order of Bums) was installed.

Pinned: Mary Potter Erickson and Bill Daughter; Colene Duvall and Alce Barnes; Colene Railey and Dish Doan.

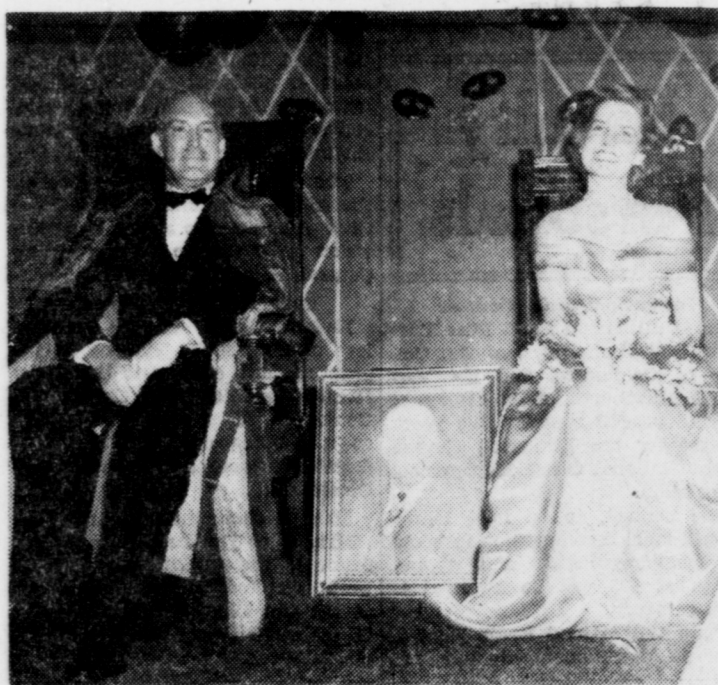

Unpinned: Martha Allen and Kim Penrod; Joan Prichard and Ted Vimont.

Engaged: Bertha Ann Lutes and Ray Combs; Delores Slaughter and Bert Cheek.

All girls interested in free dancing lessons should call Joe Grimms. Frances Farmer still finds time for Skeeter Hall, regardless of her big job as SuKy May Day chairman.

Betty Leese's return to Lexington created quite a stir among the Deltas, particularly Hugh Moorhead.

Seen at the Delt initiation formal: Doris Beck and Frank Southworth; Mildred Cox and Jack Ballantine; Margie Bradford and Don Sherlock; Jeanne Wilson and Jack

Sandy Morgan, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Dr. Rhea Taylor, recently named most popular professor, reign as rex and regina at the Mardi Gras Ball held in the SUB Ballroom last weekend.

Student-Faculty Party Planned For Thursday

An informal student-faculty party has been planned for next Thursday night. The party, sponsored by the activities committee of the Student Union Board, will be held in the SUB Ballroom.

The program will consist of square dancing, a variety show, and group singing.

All faculty members and students are invited.

Chi O's Honor Oldham

Mary Kavanaugh Oldham has been chosen the model initiate of Chi Omega.

Other initiates are Frances Barnett, Marilyn Bauer, Martha Nel Blackburn, Louise Curry, Polly Day, Sally Hancher, Patricia Mason, Ann Kirtley, Joan Pritchard, Jeanne Forcade, Mary Shinnick, and Betty Carol Pace.

Beatty, Shirley Ward and "Squirrel" Catron.

There is a senior (foolish girl) who is dying for a date with Jack Darlington.

Bernard "Lover" Burchett still seems to be giving the gals a rough time. Or could it be the other way around?

"Stupid" Mahurin has won out over Daddy Haley as the oldest man on campus. But we love him just the same!

Joe Kilroy looked plenty sharp as the staid old Confederate.

See you at the SEC... we'll probably all get kicked out of the Brown together. Just remember, the quieter you are, the longer the party can last!

Mrs. Ethridge

Vey Hall to students and townspeople.

With her Georgian drawl, which she claims once had to be interpreted into English before an English-French interpreter could relay it to a church official, Mrs. Ethridge explained her writing rather than described it. The ability to interest readers in people and in trivial, humorous things is the informal essayist's greatest achievement, she said.

She wants people to love life, and to think of it as a big, interesting game. She tries to show how this can be done in her own personal reflections on everything about her.

On a farm once, she was admiring all the "ewies" until her husband told her the correct pronunciation of the word "ewes."

"Youse" is Brooklyn slang," she retorted.

A charming essay, she says, depends upon a charming mind. A look at some of her book titles reveals a fresh touch seldom seen in any other writer—titles like "This Little Pig Stayed Home" and her latest, "It's Greek to Me."

Expecting her to go to Palestine now that her husband is there, her readers have been suggesting titles like "Going to Jerusalem" for her next book.

But she will doubtless write as originally as she always has. It takes experiences to make a book for her, and she seems to manage well.

So many things interest her that on one occasion, when she was "adoring," in conversation, everything from football to grand opera, a man told her bluntly to shut her mouth. "You adore too — many things!" he informed her.

Phi Sigs Honor Initiates With Dance

Initiates of Phi Sigma Kappa were honored recently with an informal dance at the Phoenix Hotel.

Honorees were Don DeBoer, Bill Martin, Bill Earnest, A. J. Mangione, Bernard Burchett, Bill Crews, Flip Fleming, George Rybolt, Clyde Hamm, and Joe Woitowicz.

The fraternity has pledged Buddy Florence, Bob Tichnor, Wesley Bird, Clyde Cox, Joe Coyle, Tom Mathis, Dick Jones, Jim Wolfert, and Earl Henry.

Pi Kappa Alpha will hold its annual Founders Day banquet at the Lafayette Hotel tonight at 6:30. The banquet is sponsored by the alumni of the Bluegrass chapters of the fraternity.

"Nicer but not so Expensive"

DisKintucky Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

As Coach Rupp said this week, the fact that Kentucky has been asked to participate in both the National Invitational and the NCAA tournaments is a "high honor". We feel confident that the 1948-49 Kentucky Wildcats have the ability to win both of these post-season playoffs, barring any injuries.

It is only fitting that the greatest collegiate basketball team in history bow out in a memorable way and should they cop both tournaments, a record that would probably stand for many, many years. Few other teams would have enough confidence to try such a feat.

Wah Jones, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard have been selected on the first annual selection of Collier Magazine's All-South team it was announced today. Others on the team are Tennessee's Paul Walther and Tulane's Jim Riffe.

From the All-South and the four other regional teams chosen by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, headed by a Collier's special selection board which includes Coach Rupp, an All-American quintet will be announced in next week's issue of that publication.

G. C. Brown, sports editor of the Georgetownian, school paper of Georgetown College, recently conducted a poll to determine student opinion on three questions. Votes cast numbered 102.

The question and the results are as follows: The No. 1 team in the nation? Kentucky 95 votes; St. Louis 4. The outstanding center in the nation? Groza 94, Macaulay four.

Are Kentucky's National Champions the greatest college team in history? Yes, 78, No, 14. Don't know, 10.

G. C. Brown included in this issue a group picture of the Wildcats, plus individual shots of Coach Rupp and Alex Groza. Thank you, Georgetown students.

Working out in Alumni gym last weekend was a seven-foot, one and one-half inch high school basketball player from Cleveland, Ohio. Whether he will be playing freshman ball for UK next fall is a matter of conjecture.

University High's Dwight Price was also looked over. He scored 42 points against Versailles last Friday night without too much exertion. Price, who stands 6-2, definitely has possibilities of developing into an outstanding college ballplayer. Besides hitting from anywhere on the court, he also excels on defense.

Many Wildcat followers have been disturbed by the numerous fouls that have been committed against Alex Groza which were often overlooked by the game officials.

It seems that many referees unconsciously allow the smaller players more liberty on the court compared to the big boys.

We saw a clear example of this last Thursday night when the Kentucky freshmen defeated the Xavier frosh in the Cincinnati Gardens in a preliminary game before the varsity tilt.

Big Bill Spivey, UK's 7-foot center, played only a total of about 12 minutes at the most before he was fouled out by the officials. It seemed that they were calling a foul on him every time he brushed an Xavier player.

Perhaps this is a tip-off of things to come.

Next season, all the game officials will be watching Spivey extra closely because of his size. Already the towering lad from Georgia is receiving national publicity. And this is only the beginning.

Last week he was mentioned in Time Magazine, in the write-up of Coach Rupp and Kentucky basketball. In the second issue of Sports Illustrated, which is just off the press, a half-page picture of Spivey is included in an article on basketball giants.

Spivey will have to become accustomed to being called closely. The Cats will be needing his height as much as possible in the 1949-50 season. One thing is pretty sure, Spivey won't be given any breaks because of his size. It will probably be just the opposite.

Price of tickets for the National Invitational and the NCAA tournaments range from $1 to $6. Ducts or the NIT finals and the two sessions of the NCAA meet to be held in Madison Square Garden will be placed on sale tomorrow in New York City.

Wildkittens To Play Ashland JC Tuesday; Beat XU, Shelbyville

By Tom Spillman

Tuesday, March 8, at Ashland, the Kentucky freshman basketball team meets Ashland Junior College in quest of their 13th consecutive win.

Last week the Kittens rolled over two more opponents, Shelbyville Independents, 101-40, and Xavier frosh, 45-33.

Kentucky 45, Xavier 33

Playing in the new Cincinnati Gardens as a preliminary to the Xavier game last Thursday, the frosh showed the approximately 5,000 spectators that the Wildcats of the future will have a good team.

Dick Swan opened the scoring for Kentucky, but Bales of Xavier evened the score. A field goal apiece by Len Pearson, Skippy Whitaker, and Bill Spivey, plus a free throw by Pearson ran the count to 9-2 before Grevey of Xavier could boost his team's score. The Kittens then ran the tally to 19-6, and shortly before the half, the $30,000 electric score board read 30-12.

The score at half-time was 30-15. The time of the game was cut to 36 minutes from the regulation 40 minutes in order to allow the varsity game to begin on time.

The floor was dead in spots and the two teams sounded like a herd of wild horses running up and down the hardwood.

Kentucky hit 20 of 80 field goal attempts for an average of 25 percent. Xavier had 12 of 57 for 21 percent.

Summary:

Kentucky (45) F..... (33) Xavier
Swan (13) F..... (0) Nixon
L. Whitaker (6) F..... (15) Bales
Spivey (8) C..... (10) Smith
Watson (2) G..... (6) Grevey
Pearson (11) G..... (0) O'Neill
Substitutions: Kentucky — Newton, King (1), Lambros, Strong (2), W. Whitaker, Stergeos (2), and Cox.

65-Foot Goal By Barker Features Last Home Game

By Dudley Saunders

Alex Groza broke the scoring record, but roundball magician Cliff Barker broke 3,000 necks, when they tried to do a double-take on his 65-foot set shot in the closing seconds of the Vanderbilt game last Saturday in Alumni gym.

The Wildcats closed the regular season by drubbing the Commodores, 70-37, for their 74th consecutive victory in the Euclid Avenue arena. It was victor No. 25 in a 26 Game campaign, which saw the Cats do everything but beat St. Louis.

Minutes before Barker's long-distance effort, Groza batted in a two-pointer that gave him the SEC individual scoring record for a regular-season's play.

The old mark was set in 1938 by Country Graham of LSU, who racked up 504 points in 29 games.

The Commodores kept within reach of the Cats during the first eight minutes of the game, but faded fast, to give Kentucky a 37-19 half-time margin.

The Cats continued to pour it on in the second half, with Barker, Jones, and Groza hitting from every angle. Rupp used substitutes sparingly, so that the all-student audience could see the four graduating seniors in action as long as possible.

OPEN LETTER . . . To Delta Tau Delta fraternity members: I am very sorry I was unable to attend your formal last Saturday. The invitation was really appreciated and I fully intended to be there, but creeping around on this broken ankle and cane makes it impossible to do lots of things I would like to — once again — thanks for the invite!

TIP NO. I . . . "Belmont" suits are real style leaders for spring — I really like these suits because of the full cut drape coats with the NEW and I do mean new — four pockets and hand stitched lapels — they are double breasted one button rolls and single breasted two button models — even money that you'll like 'em — another "Belmont" feature is the "Zak Slax" — really keen looking sport slax of unusual design —

TIP NO. II . . . From "Lamb Knit" mills comes a perfect garment to loaf in for spring — a slip over affair with knitted backs, gabardine or corduroy fronts — sleeveless — and two pockets. You'll be seeing lots of these advertised in fashion magazines — and you'll see lots of them worn on golf courses — classes — ball games and etc. I have them in maize, tan, grey, and maroon — only $4.95 —

Groza entered the game with 485 points and added 23 more to that total. Jones and Barker collected 18 and 13 points respectively.

Billy Joe, Adcock and Kelly paced the Commodores with 13 and 12, each.

Immediately after Barker's record-breaking long shot, President Donovan ran out on the playing court and dropped a hat on the spot where the Kentucky guard had shot from. Measurements showed the distance

Kentucky Basketeers: SEC Finals Set For Tomorrow

Jim Line

The 18,467 people who jammed New York City's Madison Square Garden were going wild. For they were seeing a great upset. Utah, an 11-point underdog, was leading the Kentucky Wildcats here in the finals of the 1947 National Invitational Tournament by a six-point margin, 27-21, at halftime.

In the early stages of the second half, the Kentuckians slowly began to overtake the Westerners and the uproar in the huge arena increased. The score went from 29-25 to 35-31.

Then the red and white uniformed boys from Salt Lake City took time out. Seconds after play started, the Cats intercepted a Redskin pass and raced down the floor.

Ralph Beard flipped a quick toss to Jim Line, who was definitely on. The freshman forward cocked his left arm, pushed up a 20-footer, and swish, he had hit his sixth goal since he was sent into the skirmish. Kentucky rosters yelled their approval as the scoreboard now showed the Cats only 35-33. Eight minutes remained.

Then 90 seconds later Jim Line fouled out of the game with five fouls. Later, the United Press sports scribe wrote: "That broke Kentucky's back for none of the more heralded regulars could provide a similar offensive spark."

After Line left, the margin separating the teams remained between four and six points, as Utah desperately fought to hold the lead and Kentucky fighting to tie it up. But it just wasn't the Cats' night. The Utah five held on to win 49-45 and were tagged "The Cinderella Kids," by writers after they won the tourney.

High Scorer

Line and Alex Groza were high scorers for the Lexingtonians. They each had 12. The Redskins pretty well stopped UK's other stars.

"It was a heartbreaker for Coach Rupp and his team to lose. But the Utah game convinced the Baron that he had a great freshman player in Jim Line, who, in 35 games that season, scored 199 points, hitting 412 percent of his field goal attempts.

In his sophomore year, Line finished second for individual scoring in the SEC meet for UK. He made 44 points in four games (including a total of 22 tallies against Florida) to follow Groza's mark of 54. He and Ken Rollins finished in a tie for second in Line's freshman season for scoring in the conference tourney with 40 markers. Wah Jones led with 50.

As a sophomore Line scored 235 points in 38 games and led the nation for free throws made for the year. The six-foot, two-inch, 185-pound lefty connected for 51 of 62 tosses for a 82.2 average. In field goal attempts he ended up last season with a 36.1 percentage.

Line was born 22 years ago in Port Royal, Penn., which is located in the central part of the state (population, 744).

His family moved to Akron, Ohio, when he was young. Later he was the leading scorer on the Akron North High School basketball team. Jim's highest scoring mark in high school was 32 points in the regional finals. Despite his efforts, the Akron North never got to the state tournament in Columbus while he was there.

In Army

Shortly after he was graduated, Line was inducted into the Army and was soon on his way overseas with the 106th Cavalry. Eventually he wound up in Germany and Austria and other European countries.

After peace was declared, Line returned to the USA and was discharged in time to enroll at UK for the 1946-47 college season.

It wasn't long before Line was attracting much attention with his sensational southpaw shooting. In his seventh game, against Texas A&M, the well-knit lad from Akron played an outstanding game and hit for 16 points in the short time he played. But his high for the year came in the first game of the SEC tournament in Louisville when he couldn't miss against Vanderbilt and scored 20 points as the

The quarterfinals of the 16th annual Southeastern Conference tournament are slated to begin at 1:30 p.m. today.

The semifinals will be held Saturday morning and the finals will be played Saturday night.

Scheduled for today, in the first set of games, will be Vanderbilt versus the LSU-Georgia Tech game and Georgia against the Tulane-Alabama survivor.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock, Mississippi ties into the winner of the Tennessee-Mississippi State and the Kentucky-Florida victor meets Auburn at 9:15 p.m.

Kentucky's Wildcats have been seeded No. 1; Tulane No. 2, Tennessee No. 3, and LSU in No. 4.

Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech are classed as the darkhorses of the meet. Vandy has improved rapidly this season and the Cats have been the only team they played that was able to beat them by any sizeable margin.

Tech last March surprised practically everyone by going to the finals with UK, after upsetting Tulane. It is possible that this will happen again.

Nolan Back

The Engineers from Atlanta, Ga., have been strengthened by the return of 6-8 Jim Nolan back into their lineup. Nolan was out of action for a period of two weeks with a bad ankle injury. The Techsters have a fast team.

Kentucky however has been made a heavy favorite to win its 11th title in 16 SEC tournament tries. UK has been champion since 1944.

Tulane was sensational in the 1947 meet, losing to the Cats in the final round after holding the Big Blue to a narrow margin through most of the game. They tired in the closing minutes and Kentucky pulled away to win, 55-38.

Last March, the Green Wave was the disappointment of the meet. However, Coach Cliff Wells is expected to have the New Orleans quintet keyed up for this one. He has three fine players in Jim Riffe, Warren Perkins and Virgil Risner. In Louisville, last December Tulane held the Wildcats to a narrow 4-point victory.

Tennessee, led by their shining star, Paul Walther, is expected to be playing UK in the semifinals tomorrow morning. The Vols have a better-than-average team and a tough starting five, but are very weak in reserve strength.

Kentucky boasts the top season record of the participating teams with a 25-1 record; Tulane has 21-3; Tennessee 17-6; LSU 13-9; Tech 11-12; and Alabama 13-11.

Rupp's last tournament defeat was to the Tennessee Volunteers, 33-30, in the finals of the '43 meet.

Kentucky entered the SEC meet with a tournament record of 47-7, and have lost but two games in the last 10 years.

Mr. Degler was guest speaker at the Pi Tau Sigma banquet in the SUB Wednesday night.

Guests included members of the mechanical engineering faculty, Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary, and Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary.

Mr. Degler discussed "Will Tomorrow's Executives Be Engineers?"

Track Team To Open '49 Season March 26 At The Purdue Relays

By Earl L. Conn

The University of Kentucky's track team will open its 1949 season when it participates in the Purdue Relays March 26.

Coach Don Seaton announced that, in addition to the relays, the Wildcats will have four dual meets—Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, Louisville, and Tennessee—and go to the Southeastern Conference meet at Birmingham. The Cats might possibly enter the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa, also.

Seaton said he would take only a few men who show the greatest promise to the Purdue Relays.

The trackmen officially started practice Monday, although some of the cindermen have been working out for several weeks. Because of the cold weather, the team has been practicing in the American Tobacco Company's warehouse—across the street from Alumni Gym.

An almost entire rebuilding of the squad will be necessary this year. Clayton Cruise graduated from last year's team. John Chumley, last year's leading point-getter, has transferred to a school in Florida; Jim McConaughy, field specialist, is ineligible, and Harold Zeigler, a promising freshman jumper and pole vaulter last season, has dropped from school.

Dallas Is Captain

Also numbered among those missing is Norman Moody, one of the nation's outstanding distance prospects. Dale Barnstable, hurdle star, will be late reporting because of basketball. The three top sprinters—Ralph Genito, Johnny Meihaus, and Don (Dopey) Phelps—will also be tardy because of spring football practice.

Tony Dallas will act as captain of the 1949 team. Dallas will team with Guy Weeks in the hurdles. Weeks is expected to run in both the low and high hurdles. Charles Warner also will run as a hurdler as well as participating in the high jump.

Another of the mainstays probably will be Frank Smotherland, shot putter and discus man. George Kirchner will be back to show the way in the 440- and the 880-yard runs.

The 1948 UK track team was undefeated in dual meets, winning over Marshall, Vanderbilt, Tennessee Poly, and Eastern Kentucky while tying Tennessee in the meet of the year, 65½-65½. However, Louisiana State won the SEC meet as it has done in 13 of the past 16 years.

The Cincinnati meet will be the first dual effort of the year for the Wildcats. The two teams will compete April 9.

Ham Radio Equipment To Be Demonstrated

Amateur radio equipment will be demonstrated at a meeting of the UK Amateur Radio Club at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Room 232 of Anderson Hall.

A movie will also be shown, and the amateur radio station W4JP will broadcast. The meeting is open to staff members and University students.

Head for the wedding announcements column in the Ball States News of Ball State Teacher's College: "For Whom The Bell Tolls."

Fencers To Meet Cincinnati U. There Tomorrow

The fencing team will leave tomorrow to meet the University of Cincinnati's swordsmen. The foil, dueling sword, and the sabre teams will compete in this match.

After being defeated by the University of Illinois, and scoring a victory over the Vanderbilt Commodores, the UK fencers expect a hard fought battle from the Cincinnati team.

Probable lineups for the bouts will be: foil team—Charles LeGette, Al Solomon, Sidney Neal, and Doug Brown; dueling sword team—George Christian, James Ryan, and Charles Mitchell; sabre team—John Ford, George Christian, and Charles LeGette.

The next home match will be held in Alumni Gym next Saturday when the UK team meets the University of Louisville. Students and the public are invited.

JIM LINE

Cats clipped the Commodores, 98-29, in the opening round.

He, Paul Walther and Tony LaVell are considered three of the best left-handed shooters in basketball today.

111 Points

This season, in his junior year, the Buckeye has tallied 111 points (going into the SEC meet) in 24 games and has a shooting average of slightly over 34 percent.

"Lefty" is majoring in chemical engineering here at UK and usually makes a 3.0 standing which has caused many a lifted eyebrow among his fellow students. "How does he do it?" is the usual comment when told that Line has come up with another all-A record for the semester.

Next season, after Groza, Beard, Jones and Barker have departed, Line is expected to make a strong bid for high scorer on the squad. He is regarded as one of the best set shots ever to play under Coach Rupp.
